About the Event

The Candlelighters Tennis Tournament benefits the Any Baby Can Candlelighters Childhood Cancer Program which offers ongoing medical case management, advocacy, information and referral, and counseling for families of children with cancer from diagnosis throughout treatment, during times of crisis, and continuing when the child is off-treatment. Services support families, link them with resources, and assist them in coping effectively throughout their entire experience with and beyond a cancer diagnosis. Family support activities led by social workers, such as a camp for siblings, a bereavement group, and family retreats, provide a safe place to discuss difficult feelings and emotions. Find details at www.abcaus.org.

Geoffrey "Jeff" Bailey

Jeff Bailey, CLU, ChFC, CFP was President of the Austin Association of Life Underwriters (now known as NAIFA-Austin) in 1996 until his disability from cancer forced his resignation. Following his diagnosis in 1988, Jeff became involved with Candlelighters as he had a special empathy for children with cancer. Jeff, an avid tennis player and Courtyard member, would be honored to know that his professional friends are enlisting his tennis friends to help the kids of Candlelighters.
